Dear Sir,

I trust this letter finds you well and filled with joy. It is with great excitement that I write on behalf of the Diocese of Tagum to share our plans for the upcoming Vocation Month in October.

Our Vocation Month is a cherished annual event for our Diocese, where we celebrate the beauty of religious vocations and inspire young hearts to consider a life devoted to serving the Church. As part of our activities, we have a wonderful campaign in store, one that involves visiting schools within our region, with a special focus on our Senior High School Students.

Our campaign will be led by our dedicated seminarians, beloved religious sisters and brothers, and some wonderful lay workers. They are eager to engage with the students, share their personal journeys, and ignite the spark of curiosity about vocations in the Catholic Church. Our aim is to not just inform but to inspire and uplift the spirits of these young minds.

We deeply value our relationship with the Department of Education and respect the importance of maintaining the school's regular academic schedule. Therefore, we humbly request your kind permission to carry out our Vocation Month campaign in schools in Davao Oriental, Davao De Oro, and Davao del Norte come this October. Rest assured, we will work in close collaboration with school administrators to ensure that our activities harmonize with the academic programs.

We are overflowing with gratitude for your consideration and support for our Vocation Month campaign. If you have any questions, require further details, or would like to discuss any aspect of our plans, please do not hesitate to mail us back or reach out to me at frpjbny@gmail.com or 0939-295-8564

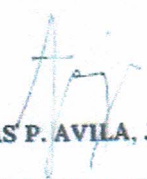

Thank you for being a part of our mission to inspire the youth. We eagerly anticipate your positive response and the joyous collaboration that lies ahead.

With heartfelt gratitude and warm regards,

REV. FR. PAUL JHON M. BANAYBANAY
Vocation Director
